Babies Born at City Hospitals

Babies Born at Benedictine and Kingston City Hospitals Guests of Honor, With Their Parents, at Celebrations Forming Part of Hospital Week.

This week has been set aside all over the United States as "Hospital Week" and on Tuesday special tribute was paid to the baby. In Kingston on Tuesday afternoon both the Kingston City and the Benedictine Hospitals entertained the babies born within their institutions as the guests of honor with the accompanying mothers sharing the glory with the babies. Not a few proud fathers accompanied the little tots.

Kingston City Hospital.
A unique greeting was arranged on the Kingston City Hospital lawn and terrace. In the form of some very fine, sturdy storks, one of which in charge of a tiny doll-baby in basket sagely nodded its head in welcome to the visitors. The guests, little and larger, were received by the officers of the Hospital Auxiliary. Amidst baskets and huge vases of flowers, tulips and apple blossoms.

It was literally a day of "Best bib and tucker," and not even the spring blossoms were as fair as the lovely children, all dainty and sweet, cool and happy. One of the prize babies was a plump, rosy-cheeked five-months-old youngster, that weighed only 3½ pounds at birth and occupied the incubator for some time at the beginning of its career.

All of the babies were registered and each received either a pretty doll or gay rattle, from Mrs. E. E. Norwood and Mrs. Charles while the mothers were given a suitable souvenir. Animal crackers and crackers and gram crackers were the "refreshments" served the little guests of honor, while the older folks enjoyed fruit punch and fancy cakes. The guests were shown through the hospital and when the

When the sun was at just the right spot the mothers and children were grouped on the lawn in front of the hospital which floated three American flags, while several of the nurses gathered on the balcony over the entrance. This group-ng brought the other guests to the lawn, and Dr. Stern extended the greeting of the staff, the trustees and auxiliary and nurses to their visitors in the celebration of the first baby in hospital week. Dr. Stern explained that the idea of such a celebration was to make better acquainted the people of the community and hospitals at their service, for promoting of better health. He said it would be hard to think today having to live in a land without hospitals and bespoke the cooperation of all for the greater and better vice both in a preventive and curative way from the hospitals. He said all of the young Americans who had been born in the Kingston Hospital would grow up to be healthy, happy prosperous and useful citizens who would in time be to observe Baby Day of Hospital.

LATEST NEWS OF NEW YORK STATE FARM ORGANIZATIONS

Prepared for This Paper by the
New York State Farm Bureau Federation, Ithaca, N. Y.

Farm Bureau and Land Bank Help Farmers Improve Woodlot

Renewed interest in improving the farm woodlot has been indicated by farm bureau organizations as a result of the president's proclamation concerning our forests issued in connection with National Forest Week.

Reforestation work has been considered sufficiently important by the N. Y. State Farm Bureau Federation for several years past that a special committee has been appointed each year to develop this work among farm bureau members. During the last three years farm bureaus have established more than a thousand demonstration forests in all parts of the state and have given advice and assistance to thousands of individuals and to many public spirited groups which are planting and protecting forests.

Farmers borrowing from the Federal Land bank at Springfield, Mass., have found that they can secure additional loans if they have a farm woodlot in good condition. In fact the farm woodlot has such an important part in the valuation of the farm that the land bank has issued special instructions for its care to members of the local loan association and others seeking loans.

Farmers are advised to cut fuel wood where it will bring about the greatest improvement in the woodlot by cutting diseased, dying or fallen trees. When selling timber they are advised to select trees of good size and mark them for cutting instead of cutting timber of all sizes. "Plant at least 1,000 trees a year on waste land or in open spaces," says the bank suggestions. Farmers can have these trees at cost from the state.

League Directors Recommend No Drop in Milk Prices for May

The board of directors of the Dairywomen's League Co-operative association, meeting in New York last week, recommended that the present basis prices of fluid milk and cream be continued during May. Slight reductions were voted in the prices of class 2A and 2B milk used in the manufacture of sterilized evaporated whole milk or sweetened whole condensed milk and milk chocolate and milk powder. An increase of 10 cents per 100 lbs. was recommended in the price of class 3C milk which is used in the manufacture of certain kinds of hard cheese.

This is the first time that dairywomen of this territory have been in position to maintain the price of fluid milk through the first months of the flush period at a level established in the shortage months. The league's report on market conditions indicated that the present level of milk prices to farmers is justified and is even well below the present cost of milk production.

Give Prizes for Best Country Life Plays

Four New York state farm organizations have offered a total of $200 in prizes for the four best plays of country life entered in a contest conducted by the New York State College of Agriculture. The N. Y. State Farm Bureau Federation, the N. Y. State Home Bureau Federation, the G. L. F. Exchange, and the State Grange are the organizations contributing.

For the past two years the state fair commission has offered the prizes in the contest. These organizations were loath to see the work drop, believing that the community theater has become an important feature of rural recreation.

Any amateur writer in the United States or Canada is eligible to the contest. Plays are received by Prof. Sanderson of the rural social organization department of the State College of Agriculture at Ithaca. After the prizes are awarded the plays will be made available for use in farm communities.

Farmers Invited to Partake in Na- tional Music Week

Rural people have been invited to participate in National Music Week, observed this week, by arranging community sings in churches, schools or farm homes. A music hour in the home is also suggested for each family in this week. Special musical programs have been presented in many farm schools, providing a climax for the year's musical work.

Representative rural people on the national committee for Music Week are O. E. Pringle, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation; L. J. Tabor, master of the National Grange; and Keaton L. Butterfield, president of the American Country Life association.

Experts Report on Fruit Growers' Organization

Specialists of the U. S. department of agriculture who have been studying the work of the Western New York Fruit Growers' Co-operative Packing association, both in its local branches and central office, reported to the board of representatives of the association in Rochester on May 1. It is expected their study will result in some changes in the setup of the organization. The report will be made public.

Biscuits in one oven—Roast in the other —and plenty of cooking space besides

IT'S dinner time; I and through the glass panels of the gas oven door see those light, crispy biscuits—baked just right by automatically controlled heat at 400 degrees. Open the door of the coal oven and there's your roast beef—brown and juicy, fit for a king!

The great Gold Medal Glenwood gives you a complete gas range and a full service coal range, all in the space of one. Yet it's barely 4 feet wide. Bake, roast, or broil in either or both, separately or together. In the cooking top, with 4 covers for coal and 5 gas burners besides, the Gold Medal combines all the cooking capacity that you will ever need.

And the Glenwood Robertshaw heat control eliminates all the old guesswork in using the gas oven.

Slow, Moderate Hot or Quick?

By simply turning the indicator of the Glenwood Robertshaw control you can set the oven at exactly the heat you need. This device controls the temperature automatically — as long as you need it.

Tubular Outline Not Spring Mode

Variations of Bodice and Skirt Avoid Straight Line, Writer Says

The new spring dress is easily distinguishable from its immediate predecessors, says a fashion writer in the New York Herald-Tribune. It has discarded many of the wearisome themes to which the mode seemed indefinitely committed and it marks the crystallization of numerous different and progressive tendencies. The principal details of daytime dresses are catalogued below:

The tubular silhouette has passed slightly out of the picture and in its place there are innumerable variations of bodice and skirt, all of them avoiding the absolutely straight line. The bodice appears frequently, but it is not an invariable note. The typical skirt is wide at the hemline and decidedly shorter than last year's models. Indeed, the shortness of the French models is often carried to an extreme, which is far from esthetic and will not find favor on these shores. The characteristic skirt length in smart American circles approximates 14 inches off the ground—in Paris it is often as much as 18. Skirt width is achieved by means of inverted and wide box plaits, circular cuts, apron and panel effects, godets, tunics and gathers. This fullness is not always limited to the skirt hem, starting occasionally as high as the waistline. Remember above all things that the skirt of the afternoon frock is no longer narrow and it must add perceptible width somewhere between the waist and skirt hem. Preferably this fullness should be confined to the front, leaving the back fairly flat. Molded lines are suggested either for the bodice or over the hips.

The eclipse of the tubular outline added impetus to the tendency toward the marked waist and the smartest of the new French models invariably incorporate a fairly defined waistline. This appears either at a normal position, or low or high—the higher line being more generally favored. The reason for this is manifest—as long as skirts are acutely short, the harmony of the silhouette can best be maintained by the raised waist. It need not and should not be sharply defined, but the smart woman will include a frank suggestion of it in her spring frock. The trend is distinctly that way.

Sleeves Are Variegated.
Much of the decoration of the afternoon mode centers around the new sleeves which are of variegated types. Long and short sleeves are in evidence, with the former distinctly predominating. Some long ones are molded above the elbow and are wide below, and some reverse this order, but the majority are long and narrow. "Tight" wrist bands, scarf ends, circular wrist flounces and balloon effects are only a few of the many ways of varying the spring sleeve. Several designers also incorporate sleeves of material and color entirely different from the frock itself. The sleeve offers a better outlet for individuality than any other item of spring mode, and here you may let your fancy roam as far ahead as you wish. Only bear in mind this single adjuration—avoid the sleeveless street frock. Several Paris designers have again offered it, but it is altogether distinctly as evidence of poor taste.

Crepes, satins, tulle, ribbons, satin, rayon, chiffon, lace, crepe chiffon and satin, plain and printed crepe de chine, georgette, crepe, crepe Roman, organdy, wool crepe and corded crepe are among the more prominent spring fabrics. Colors are even more numerous. Gray and blue de rose stand out above the others, but green, mauve, red, black, chocolate yellow, fluorescent shades of blue and white and the pastels are also important. Here is another opportunity for type expression and you may choose your spring fabric and color much according to your personal taste.

Besides the infinite ways of varying the wide skirt, yokes, jabots, floating panels, revers, patch pockets, button trimming, lingerie collars and cuffs, soutache, silver-black letters and cuffs, and other details are used to embellish the new afternoon dresses. The collar, still important, remains fairly high and much of the bodice variation centers around it and the shoulders.

Novelty of the Ensemble.
The novelty of the spring ensemble lies in its distinctly new details rather than in the idea itself, which dates its vogue back several seasons. In many quarters it is believed that the ensemble theme has become a permanent fixture in the mode, due to the fact that it cannot be easily and accurately copied. Elsewhere the opinion is that it has reached its peak and now on will gradually recede in popularity. We incline to the latter opinion as far as the ensemble in its present typical form is concerned—but we believe that the theme will reappear consistently in the future, albeit in entirely new guises. Salient details of the spring ensemble are appended.

The term ensemble, applied to fashions, is used to indicate a note of identity appearing on two or more different parts of the costume. It may include hat, stockings, shoes and accessories, but it ordinarily connotes the linking of coat and dress through a relationship in fabric, color or design. Typical ensembles have the coat lining and the dress of the same fabric—often printed—but many new ensemble expressions have been introduced for spring. Some of the novelties are the sleeveless coat ensemble, the woolen coat and silk frock combination, the short coat and the jumper frock, the coat forming a direct contrast instead of matching the dress, and the kasha coat worn in combination with a lace dress. It is advisable to select from one of the novelty combinations. If you intend to fare forth in a spring ensemble. The printed coat lining and dress combination is wearing well, but it is no longer new, and the smart woman will favor more unusual combinations.

Coat and Dress Styles.
Long or three-quarter coats predominate for the ensemble and they may be of silk or wool. The full-length top-coat and the redingote are favored styles. Novel effects, such as slashing the coat up the center of the back, or along the side seams for some ten or twelve inches, are smartest. The dress conforms in all respects to the details of the afternoon frock except in the cases of sports and evening ensembles, which are considered under their respective headings.

Kasha, surah, crepe, printed silks, satins, chiffon, wool jersey, foulard, georgette, taffeta and many lightweight coat wools are among the more prominent materials. Jade, green, purple, mauve, red, black, gray and the lighter shades are the smartest colors.

Revived a year ago, the tailored suit was then a little ahead of its time and found small place in the general scheme of fashions. Today the mode has been educated up to it and it takes its position among the chic of the haute monde. The tailleur is the exponent of mannish lines in spring fashion, and as such is directly opposed to the softer spirit of the ensemble. Both are en vogue this season—and if only one is your portion, you may choose according to your type. Tailleur characteristics follow:

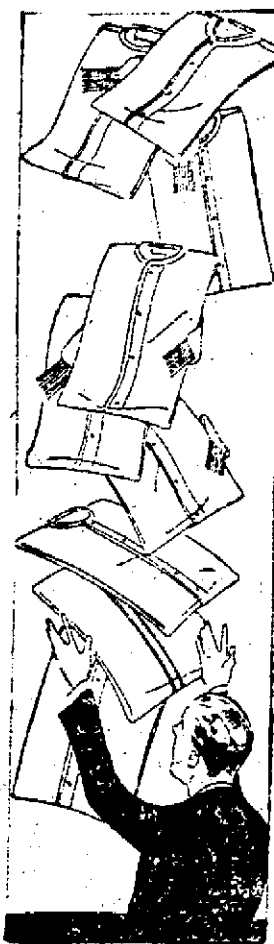

There is little opportunity for innovation in the tailored silhouette and it usually conforms to the straight and slim contour. Both jacket and skirt depart occasionally from the narrow silhouette, the former through the bolero or bootee coat lines and the latter through a plaited fullness usually concentrated at the front. Generally the coat and skirt are developed in the same material while the blouse, strictly tailored, is of one of the heavier silks. When the waistcoat is substituted it is usually of a material such as white pique. There are, however, frequent instances of jacket and skirt in contrasting fabrics.

The action brought in supreme court by John H. Belcher against Edward O'Hanlon of Glen Falls, for damages to plaintiff's automobile, was concluded this morning and sent to the jury. Plaintiff seeks damages as the result of an accident on the Saugerties road on October 12, 1924, when he claims the car of the defendant going north collided with his Chevrolet car, which was proceeding south on the right of the road. The defendant entered a counterclaim for $150 damages to his car, claiming that the Belcher car swerved to the left of the road and collided with his car.

Crotty and Joseph Crotty of Veterans, town of Saugerties, seek $1,200 damages and loss of use of their Cadillac car which they allege was damaged through a collision with a Franklin car of Bertha Soura, driven by her son. Plaintiff's car operated by a chauffeur was proceeding from Maiden toward Quarryville. The car of defendant was coming from the direction of Agency toward Saugerties and plaintiff's claim was turned down to the left into the Maiden road, colliding with the Cadillac car which was a few feet from the junction of the roads. Waste Basket or Treasure Chest

Dr. Moody Talks to High School Students on "Investments"—What the People Can Make of Their Mind.

Tuesday morning at a special assembly the students of the Kingston High School were addressed by Dr. Moody, president of the Northfield School of Northfield, Mass. Mr. Moody was in Kingston Monday night for the purpose of speaking at the annual banquet of the Kingston Y. M. C. A. Through the efforts of General Secretary Safford of the Kingston Y. M. C. A., Mr. Moody was persuaded to address the students of the high school.

Mr. Moody spoke on the subject "Investments," not of money but of time. Among other things he said, "Many people think of the mind as a waste basket and fill it full of trash, others think of the mind as a chest and fill it full of treasures. The first kind of person is all right until he wants to use his mind. It is then he finds that he has nothing but trash in it. The second kind of person is the one with whom it is a pleasure to talk, for he has a good mind and always something worth while to talk about."

Mr. Moody cited Theodore Roosevelt as an example. Roosevelt was never known to waste a minute. In the spare minutes when he could find nothing else to do, Roosevelt would sit down and read something worth while. In closing Mr. Moody said that everyone should read a little of the Bible each day.

Sea Oil Wells

Sea-going vessels frequently report having passed through parts of the ocean where the surface of the water was covered with oil for a distance of perhaps many miles. The source of this oil is frequently a mystery. In some cases it is known to have been due to oil-carrying vessels which have sunk, but in others it is believed to be due to oil wells on the bottom from which the oil rises. In some cases it has been observed bubbling out of the water, as if a steady stream of it were rising. These apparent submarine oil wells are most common in the Gulf of Mexico and off the western coast of South America.

Why So Many Divorces

Nearly half of the divorces granted in London courts in 1923 resulted from childless marriages. Divorces for couples without children numbered 1,206 out of 2,634 cases.

Animal Highly Valued

The water buffalo is valued highly in China, especially in the fields, where it is used for the cultivation of the rice crop. It is said that they are more powerful than the ox and capable of dragging or carrying a heavier load. Two Minutes' Silence

By C. N. WILLIAMSON

(© 1925, Western Newspaper Union.)

LADY PENDRED rushed in as Sir Richard was darkening the room. The screen (a big sheet) was in its place on the wall. Everything was ready for the show.

"I've broken it to them!" she gasped. "What? You told them they were going to see—"

"No, no! But Anne was determined to know why she and Dick had been brought down together to Surrey at this unearthly hour in the morning, so I thought it was better to confess—I mean, confess that you were anxious they should see one of your films—the last time they're likely to see anything together before the divorce."

"Good God!" exploded the old admiral. "Proceedings aren't begun, are they?"

"Oh! Don't speak so loudly! The windows are open behind the curtains. If Anne and Dick are in the garden—"

"Well, while there's life there's hope! What did we bring them down for to this garden of memories? Cheer up, old girl. There, I'm all ready. You can call them in."

"Promise that you won't make criticisms or remarks of any kind, or even move until the thing is over, no matter what you may feel or think," said Sir Richard, when Lady Pendred had brooded the pair into his study and "showers."

"Of course, we promise," they replied in a breath. But they did not sit side by side. Lady Pendred's chair was between them.

Suddenly a gramophone began to play "Should auld acquaintance be forgot?" sang the kind, sweet voice.

Sir Richard turned off the last electric lamp in the study—his "picture palace," as it was called. He had timed himself to begin the show precisely at ten minutes to eleven. This he had done for a very special reason. Success depended upon the turning.

The machine began to click, and on the lighted screen appeared the picture of a village church; an old, gray Norman church, with a beautiful doorway, on the daisied grass of the churchyard, people grouped—all looked smiling and happy and excited. Something was going to happen.

Anne Pendred uttered a faint cry. She would have spoken, protested, but she remembered her promise.

The gramophone in the next room was playing the wedding march from Lohengrin. The bride was coming out of church—a lovely young bride, radiant with happiness. Her hand was on her husband's arm—a tall young man in khaki, with ribbons on his breast. She looked up at him. Such a look of trust and joy and perfect faith in the future! He gave her look for look, and impulsively pressed her hand.

As the bride and bridegroom descended the two steps from the church door children ran forward and threw roses in their path. "Roses, roses all the way," the gramophone was playing.

Suddenly the scene changed. The young couple had walked from the church to a welcoming gateway that stood wide open. There was a lawn, with shading beeches and Lebanon cedars. The two stood together, and friend after friend came to congratulate and wish them well.

There was a marquee, open on one side, showing a flower-decorated table. The bride cut the cake with the bridegroom's sword. Healths were drunk. But at last it was time for the bride to tear herself away. She threw a backward glance to her husband, as if to say, "How can I leave you, even to get ready for our honeymoon?" He took a step to follow her, caught her hand, then let her go.

Presently she appeared once more, dressed for traveling. On, on ticked the machine, until, amid a shower of rice, the two had driven off in a car from the door of a big country home—singularly like this house of the old retired admiral and his wife.

The scene was over: a resurrection of lost happiness. How lost, who could tell in words? Somehow it had been mislaid! How sweet it had been, how beautiful! Was it gone for ever?

The screen was dark. Anne's lips opened. "Cruel! Cruel!" were the words she would have cried out. But at that instant a clock sounded the first strokes of the hour—eleven—and the harp in the village moaned the end of the day.

There was no time to switch on the lights. The room was still in twilight. Lady Pendred had slipped her shoulder out of the chair that divided the room. All four silent eyes were on the screen where on the film the young couple were on their way. It was as if they had been told that the film was the picture of their own life. And Anne—what was that tiny sound? Was she choking back a sob?

Two minutes! For four years passed before the eyes of those two souls, as the wedding picture, taken by Sir Richard, had gazed upon the screen. Four years full of mistakes and misunderstandings and foolish quarrels. But hadn't even the quarrels been born of love—poor, passionate love, that did not quite know the event and glorious cause of "give and take?"

The two minutes were over, the marquee told them that. It was permitted to speak. But no one did speak. Dick and Anne looked at each other. Then, impulsively, he held out his arms. She almost fell into them, weeping. Two minutes' silence had told them more than they could ever have put into words.

Mythical Island

On the island of Delos, in the Aegean sea, Apollo was supposed to have been born, and the legend is that prior to his birth the island floated about, but afterward it became fixed and was filled with a golden light while sacred swans encircled its seven towers.

THE BAD STOVE

"All the morning," said the stove, "I've been working hard. I've been burning well."

"But you know a stove can't be good all the time. A stove has to be naughty as much as anything else."

"I helped to bake apples and to bake a pie and to cook a dinner and to bake a cake and I'm thorough for the day."

"To be sure I've not been turned off."

"At night they turn off the dampers and leave me in a quiet state so that I'm hardly burning at all. I'm just allowed to keep going."

"That's my bedtime and I need it. I'd burn up too much coal any other way and if I were allowed to burn at full tilt at night there might be a fire. There'd be no one watching me and I can't control myself."

"But this isn't bedtime now. I just decided that I'd be bad by not going."

"Why did I decide to be bad? I don't know."

"Why does anyone have times of being naughty? Sometimes because they're sleepy or tired or because people annoy them.

The Irons Just Didn't Seem to Heat.

"Perhaps because they've been teased."

"But I have none of these reasons."

"I am like those who're naughty without any special reason."

"I just decided I had worked hard enough and that I'd be annoying."

"They'll all be so discouraged."

"They'll talk about the fire that doesn't go and that they've done everything to make it go."

"They'll say that it took them so long to bake the apples and that some of the things won't be ready in time for supper and that supper will be late."

"They'll say that they're all behind on the ironing because the iron just didn't seem to heat."

"They'll say that they can't understand it. They've done all that they could."

"They will say that a good many times."

"Of course that will be quite true for I can't understand myself why there are times when I just won't go and when I am just as mean as can be."

"I only know it's because I want to be naughty and I don't know why."

"You won't think better of it and change this afternoon?" the coal scuttle asked.

"Not I!" said the stove.

"They did want to bake those apples," the coal scuttle went on.

"You can't appeal to my better, warmer nature now," said the stove.

"When I've made up my mind not to go."

"AB, don't be mean to the people," said the coal scuttle.

"I will if I like," said the stove.

"Don't refuse to burn this afternoon," said the flatirons.

"I'll do as I choose and you can't make me do otherwise," said the stove.

"I don't believe you can do anything with the stove this afternoon," said the family later on. They were weary with trying.

They made all the speeches the stove had said they would make, and through it all the stove said not a word but burned so very slowly that it was of no help at all.

Then the stove chuckled to itself, a funny low chuckle as though the coal had moved a little, and said:

"I'm a bad stove."

"I'm a naughty stove."

"I'm a self-willed stove."

"I'm an obstinate stove."

"I'm an unreasonable stove."

"I'm a disobedient stove."

"I'm an incorrigible stove."

"I'm full of mean tricks this afternoon."

"I'm not caring what anyone says."

"I'm tired of being good."

"So I'm being bad."

"And I'm quite enjoying myself. That shows how thoroughly bad I'm being."

Banks Out of Luck

Mother was trying to impress upon little brother the need of remembering his home address. So one evening she said to him: "Frankie, what would you tell a policeman if you were lost and couldn't find your mamma?" He replied: "I'd say I was out of luck."

Maybe They Were Wild Men!

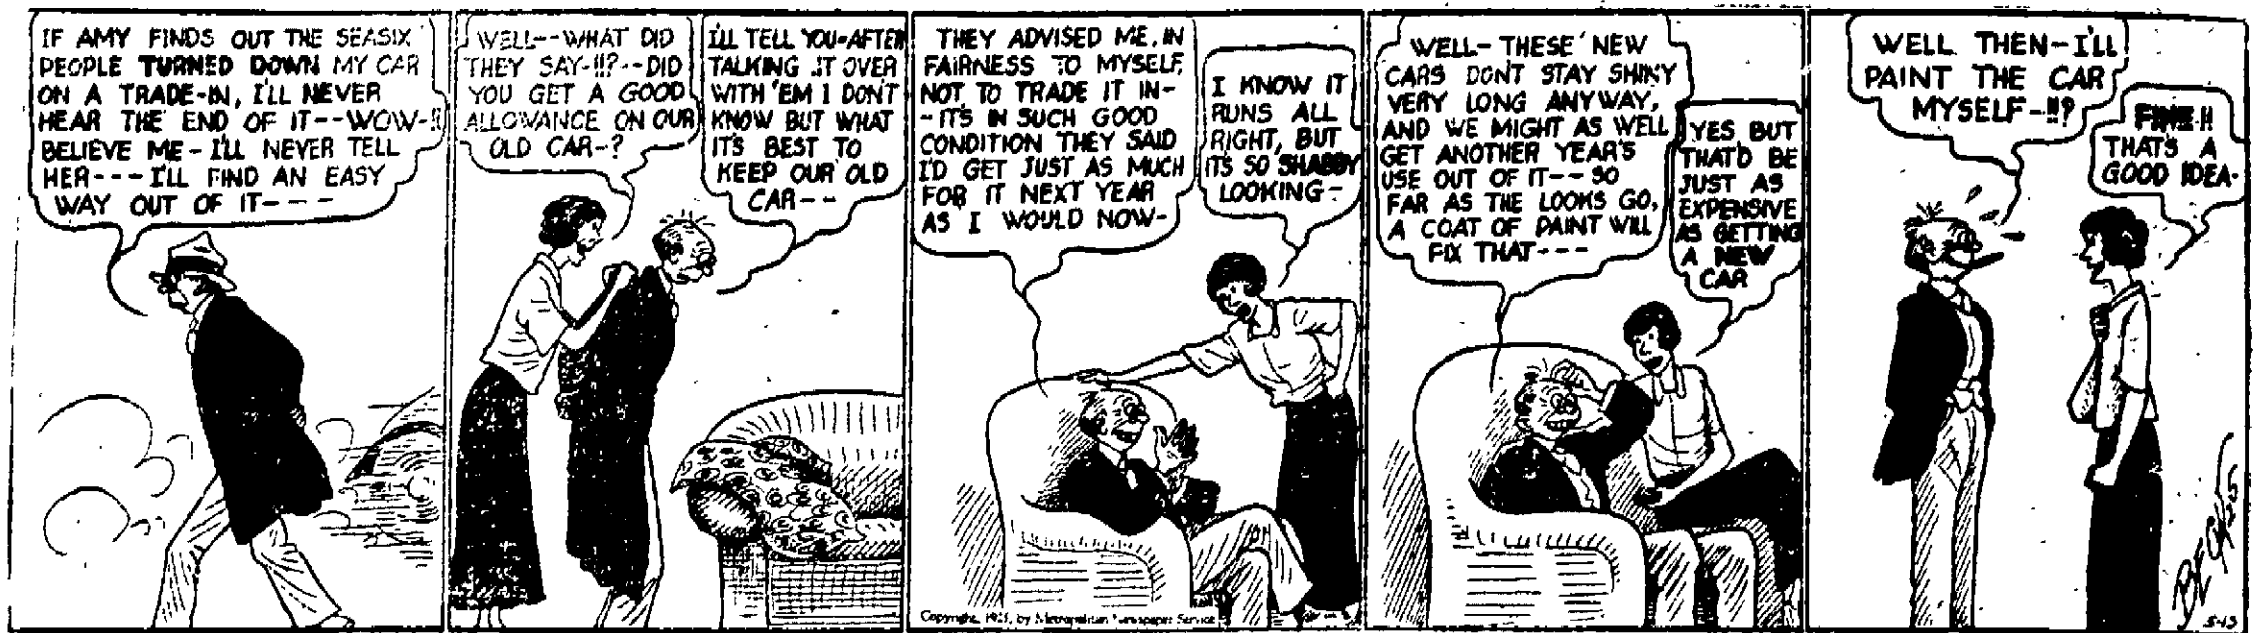

Allen was riding in a street car which passes by the university tennis courts where, for the first time, he noticed the students playing tennis. Much surprised, he called out at the top of his voice:

"Holler, why do they put those men in cages?"

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

The Gentlemen Adventurers.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

THE EXPLOITS OF DRAKE REVIVED ENGLAND'S INTEREST IN AMERICA AND EXPLORATION WAS RESUMED THIS TIME BY A GROUP OF MEN WHO ARE SPOKEN OF AS THE GENTLEMEN ADVENTURERS.

THEY CAME TO THE NEW WORLD SEEKING NOT GOLD BUT GLORY AND EXCITEMENT.

THE FIRST OF THESE WAS MARTIN FROBISHER WHO IN 1576 SAILED NORTH OF LABRADOR SEEKING A NORTHWEST PASSAGE TO CHINA AND DISCOVERED THE BAY THAT BEARS HIS NAME AND A GREAT ICE LAND CALLED META INCOGNITA.

ON THIS VOYAGE FROBISHER FOUND WHAT HE THOUGHT WAS GOLD WHICH LED TO A SECOND AND THEN A THIRD EXPEDITION (1577-1578), BUT THE INTENSE COLD OF THE FROZEN NORTH FORCED THE SEARCHERS TO ABANDON THEIR PROJECT.

ANOTHER OF THESE GENTLEMEN ADVENTURERS WAS SIR HUMPHREY GILBERT WHO RECEIVING A GRANT FROM QUEEN ELIZABETH, SAILED IN 1578 TO PLANT A COLONY BUT MEETING WITH SPANISH SHIPS SOON RETURNED TO ENGLAND.

IN 1583 GILBERT AGAIN SET OUT TO FOUND A COLONY. LANDING IN NEWFOUNDLAND HE CLAIMED IT FOR THE QUEEN. FROM THERE HE SAILED SOUTH ALONG THE COAST AS FAR AS THE KENNEBEC RIVER.

IN A TERRIFIC STORM GILBERT WAS DROWNED WHEN HIS SHIP POONDERED-- HIS LAST WORDS, CALLED TO FRIENDS ON ANOTHER VESSEL, WERE-- "THE WAY TO HEAVEN IS AS NEAR BY SEA AS BY LAND."

TOMORROW-- SIR WALTER RALEIGH.

(By The Western Newspaper Union.)

Last night the unseen gates swung back, so softly no one knew. The troops of dreary, darkness things that silently withdrew.

For down a way All summer gray.

Like phantoms put to rout. The blackness of the winter days slipped sighing, shuffling off. The long cold, purple shadows fled, and the late lingering snow, To leave a patch of heaving green where early violets glow.

EVERYDAY GOOD THINGS

When a main dish seems difficult try:

Veal Orzo.—Have a "thin slice or two of veal cut from the leg Pound until evenly thin and cut into strips two inches by four. On each strip place seasoned bread crumbs, mix with a little onion and a grating of lemon peel, chopped salt pork and bits of the veal cut when trimming. Roll up and skewer with toothpicks or tie with twine. Place in a hot frying pan and brown well all over in butter. Now add a cupful of rich milk and let simmer for a half hour or more. Serve with mashed potatoes and the gravy from the pan.

Graham Pudding.—Take one-half cupful of molasses, one-half teaspoonful of soda, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of cloves, four tablespoonfuls of butter, one cupful of chopped raisins, one-half cupful of cinnamon, one and one-half cupfuls of graham flour, one-half cupful of milk, one egg, one teaspoonful of salt. Mix all the ingredients, adding the raisins after steaming them. Turn into a buttered mold and steam two and one-half hours. Serve in any desired sauce.

Cinnamon Toast.—This is a very popular dish with the ladies served with a cup of tea. Spread thin slices of toast with butter and cover with a mixture of cinnamon and sugar. Allow the toast to stand where it will be kept hot until it becomes saturated with the mixture.

Irish Stew.—Take two and one-half pounds of lamb, eight potatoes, four turnips, four small onions, a quart of boiling water. Place the sliced vegetables in layers with the lamb, cut from the neck. Cover with the water and stew gently until the vegetables are tender. Season well and serve hot.

Porcelain Old Product

Porcelain factories and stores were operating in Arabia as long ago as 300 A. D. The Arabian geographer Mohammed-el-Idrisi, in 1154, published an account of the town of Hishak where "Chinese glass" was made, and added that there was no finer trade than that of porcelain. Certain towns and villages became known for their porcelain and other ceramic products, through the industry was obviously limited to certain areas.

Today We Celebrate

ANNIVERSARIES.

Joseph Henry, who is said to have invented the first electro-magnetic machine and the first magnetic telegraph, and who was secretary of the Smithsonian Institution in Washington for 22 years, died 47 years ago today.

The Episcopal Church in the United States was organized at a meeting in New Brunswick, N. J., on this date in 1784.

The Roman Catholic diocese of Montreal was established 33 years ago today. A mortuary to consider the formation of the new state of West Virginia was held in Wheeling 54 years ago today, and the revised version of the American Testament was first placed on sale in America forty-four years ago today.

PADILLA.

Mary de Padilla, a Spanish lady, was the Mistress of Pedro the Cruel, king of Castile, in 1350.

She possessed such influence over him that three days after his marriage with the beautiful and virtuous

Blanche de Bourbon, he repudiated her for his lawful mistress. After his divorce from Blanche, Pedro married Jeanne de Castro, and ten days after was again at the feet of the all-powerful Padilla, who, dying soon afterwards, was buried with all the magnificence due to a crown prince.

SOCIETY OF THE CINCINNATI.

The Society of the Cincinnati, the oldest of American patriotic organizations, was organized by American and French officers of the Revolutionary forces at the close of hostilities, 142 years ago today. The membership is now composed exclusively of descendants of officers who fought in the Continental and French armies.

There are generally about a thousand members on the rolls, and many more honorary members, one of whom is William Howard Taft. Roosevelt and Wilson were also honorary members. From its incorporation the society has been bitterly opposed, as many feared that such a society was incompatible with Democratic institutions, and might lead to an hereditary aristocracy. But such objections have long since died out. The society has a branch in France.

Births Exceeded Deaths in City

During April There Were 55 Births and 40 Deaths Reported in Kingston—Plenty of Mumps Here and Nine Cases of Scarlet Fever Reported.

Kingston's birth rate exceeded the death rate during April according to the reports of the officials of the board of health submitted at the regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening at the city hall. There were 55 births and 40 deaths reported here last month.

That there were plenty of mumps prevalent during April is shown by the fact that 43 cases were reported in the city. There were also nine cases of scarlet fever and five of diphtheria.

The reports of the officers, which were read and filed, follow:

THE BISHOP SLEEVE AGAIN— AND YET AGAIN.

(By Eleanor Gann.)

Interest in long sleeves has been rife, though the subject is not a particularly timely one. It is predicted by most stylists that once the summer is safely over, all smart frocks will have long sleeves, and that many of them will be of the bishop variety.
In other words, the fullness is arriving via the forearm.

The peasant blouse, or frock—an excellent version of which is shown —is remarkable for this type of sleeve. Various placements of embroidery are possible, the most usual occurring below the shoulder.

Morning Frock of Voile Follows
the Peasant Mode.

That long sleeves have even made their entree at the dinner dance is another pertinent fact. The chiffon frock which is flowered or plain often has long sleeves, and usually,
though not always, loose ones.
In one collection, recently shown, this type of dress dominated, even the ensemble taking a back seat in consequence—though a long sleeved flowered chiffon may well be a part, and a very decorative part, of the ensemble. Scalloped-edged sleeves have occurred to more than one designer, and, of course, scalloped skirts and even coats have more than once been commented on with enthusiasm.

Use Electric Shocks for Regulating Hearts

One of the most remarkable of recent medical inventions is the static wave device.
Its purpose is to regulate the beating of the heart, should it be too fast or too slow. The patient sits in an insulated chair connected with a machine which passes an electric current through the body.

Outside the machine is a revolving ball, fixed to the end of a metal rod.
Every time this ball passes another stationary ball, electricity is discharged from the body, causing the muscles to relax.

If the heart should be beating 74
times a minute, but is six beats fast, says the Detroit News, the revolving ball is timed to go around at 74 revolutions a minute and the heart is thus slowed down to its correct time.
In the same way, the heart can be quickened.

This wonderful machine was exhibited at a recent medical exhibition in London. The force of the current is such that a person putting his hand within six inches of the chair receives a powerful shock.

Turned From Smithy to Watch Designing

The first Swiss watch was made by a blacksmith. In 1690 a distinguished Englishman was traveling through Switzerland when his watch failed him and the nearest approach he could find to a watchmaker was a young blacksmith, Daniel Jean Richard. This young man undertook to repair the watch, which he did successfully. He profited so greatly by this experience in the knowledge he acquired of the design and construction of watches that he became the first watchmaker of the country and the pioneer of a great industry. According to a Swiss watchmaker visiting this country, the district of Neuchâtel produces more watches than any similar locality in the world.

STANDARD OIL CO. OF NEW YORK - 26 Broadway

THERE is a new Delco-Light—a Delco-Light that places electricity within the reach of every farm in America. It is lower in price than any Delco-Light Plant has ever been. And it can be bought on terms so easy that no farm family need wait any longer to give its home the wonderful benefits of electric light.

All that electric light means in comfort, convenience, safety and economy is now available to the million farm homes that have always wanted electricity, but have felt that its cost was too great.

An Amazingly Low Price

For months we have been working on the development of this new Delco-Light.
Our years of experience as the world's largest manufacturers of farm electric plants have enabled us to design a plant that will give dependable electric light to any home. And our enormous manufacturing facilities enable us to build this plant at the lowest possible cost, and to sell it at a price that makes Delco-Light a real economy.

A Non-Storage Battery Plant—600 Watt Capacity

The new plant is a genuine Delco-Light in every respect—full 600-watt capacity, strong, sturdy built, economical in operation. It is equipped with a standard Delco starter and an economical starting battery. And its price is only $195 f. o. b. Dayton—the lowest price and the greatest value ever offered in a Delco-Light electric plant.

Completely Installed at a Small Extra Cost

In addition to this, special arrangements have been made whereby the Delco-Light Dealer in your community will install your plant and wire your house for five lights to be located where-ever you specify. You will receive with the plant five beautiful spun-brass lighting fixtures complete with bulbs.

And all of this—plant, installation, wiring, fixtures, everything ready to turn on the lights—will cost you only $53, in addition to the price of the plant itself.

A Small Down Payment— Balance on Easy Terms

Finally, we have arranged that this new low cost for Delco-Light, completely installed, can be paid on terms so easy that anyone can take advantage of them.
The total cost is only $248, including freight to a little more west of the Mississippi. But you make only a small down payment. The balance is payable on easy terms, arranged to suit your convenience.

Ask for Details

Never before has such an offer been made. Never before has Delco-Light cost so little and been so easy to buy.
It means that any farm home—your home
—can have Delco-Light today.

At the bottom of this advertisement appear the name and address of the Delco-Light Dealer for your community.
Call, write, or telephone for full information—specifications of the plant, illustrations of the fixtures that come with it, details of our complete installation and wiring plan, and the figures that show how easily you can now get Delco-Light.

BARON VOLKOFF and DAUGHTERS

Once worth millions and holder of power over hundreds of thousands of Russians in the United States as Russian Consul at Chicago, Baron Volkoff (inset) has been so reduced by the Bolshevik regime that he must seek a position as cook to support his two daughters, who formerly were high in Chicago social life.

DEVIOUS ARE THE WAYS OF CROOKS

Modern Thief Is Thoroughly Up to Date.

Great criminals of fiction who find it necessary to secure the impressions of keys for some nefarious purpose invariably carry small pellets of wax, which they keep pliable by the warmth of the hand. I suppose years ago burglars did use this sticky and clumsy method, writes Willfrid Singleton.

The modern criminal, however, moves with the times. A few days ago I saw the impressions of a key taken by an expert gang of burglars who intended to commit a crime. They had their plans all perfected for a huge warehouse robbery. For weeks they had cultivated the acquaintance of the woman cleaner of the establishment, and one of them in the early morning helped in beating carpets and sweeping the stairs. To gather the impressions of all the keys in the warehouse had been a simple matter.

All these impressions were taken in the bone of a cuttlefish, that curious white fleshy substance which children and artists use as well as modern burglars. For the bone of the cuttlefish gives a clear, sharp impression of the key edges, far better than can ever be obtained by wax, and moreover it possesses such properties that a mold is already at hand, and the keys can be made at once.

Queer devices of a similar nature are produced by criminal brains. The policeman, young and enthusiastic, who first tied a cotton thread to the handle of a jeweler's shop and a nail in the side of the doorway has long since been found out, as also has his comrade who stuck a penciled piece of stamp paper on the joint of a door.

The regularity of the beats of these officers enables the crooks to make little of these safeguards. They simply appoint one of their number, known as the "minder," who wanders along behind the officer, armed with a similar piece of sticking plaster and a similar portion of cotton.

Once his friends are inside the premises which are to be robbed, he replaces the policeman's device with his own, and the officer, when he arrives an hour or so later at the shop, discovers his cotton or plaster apparently intact. He walks serenely by, assured of his own alertness, while the burglars inside the shop are probably working with acetylene lamps at the safe that he will not know has been robbed until detectives arouse him in the late morning from his sleep with the news and with requests for explanations.

Old Town Advances

The oldest town on the North American mainland is Truxillo in Central America. It was discovered by Columbus in 1502 and now its historic streets are illuminated at night by modern electric street lighting units. Electricity is brought to Truxillo by a special 13,200-volt transmission line 12 miles long.

The Board of Public Works of the City of Kingston do ordain as follows:

The Record Still Stands!

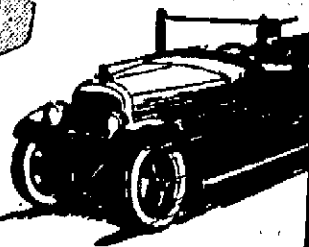

ON February 4th, on the Culver City, Cal., track, a stock Chandler sped 1000 miles in 689 minutes, the fastest 1000 miles ever made by any automobile—including racing cars.

This climax of a notable series of performance victories challenged the entire automotive industry.

But no car has yet been able to equal Chandler's time in this gruelling test of answering the wide open throttle from dawn to dusk. And the Chandler record still stands!

RALPH MULFORD, who piloted the record-breaking Chandler—a stock model except for the higher gear ratio.

NOW—a chance for you to drive a Chandler such as Mulford drove

WE offer you an opportunity to drive a duplicate (save gear ratio) of the Chandler which maintained an average of 86.96 miles an hour for 12 hours—which, in that terrific test, sensationally demonstrated the stamina and durability that every automobile owner demands.

We want you to learn from actual experience, the flashing acceleration, the phenomenal high gear power, the superlative smoothness of the famous Pikes Peak Motor.

We want you to learn from actual experience, too, what many people refuse to believe until they drive a Chandler—that with the Traffic Transmission it is impossible to clash gears even intentionally!

Here are qualities of power, speed and handling ease obtainable in no other car. Take this opportunity to make a personal test of them—of driving the kind of car that Mulford drove! Call today—or any day this week—phone for a car if you prefer.

The Coach Imperial combines the thrill of Chandler performance and the luxury of a superior Fisher body—and it sells at the touring car price, $1595, f. o. b. Cleveland.

(The Traffic Transmission is built complete in the Chandler plant under Campbell patents)

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, May 13.—Irregular price movements in the stock market today resulted from the liquidation of public utility and specialty stocks and accumulation of oil and industrial stocks. Standard Oil and the leading independent oil stocks reached new high price levels for the current movement.

Motor and public utility stocks began the day with a weakened technical position as a result of the recent almost interrupted advance in prices.

Higher operations for some of the important industrial concerns, continuation of low call money rates, favorable Washington dispatches relative to the prospect of income tax reduction, legislation and higher prices for gasoline in the eastern markets, were the principal factors affecting the markets.

The forward movement in the oil and industrial stocks spent most of its force by the noon period, after which the whole market lapsed into dullness, with irregular price movements.

Bullish pools abandoned their activities early in the day when it was seen that little progress was being made in inducing public buying of their favorite stocks. Call money ruled at 3 1/2 per cent.

Dean Cushman Sails for Rome

Kingston Pastor Starts on Holy Year
Pilgrimage to Vatican—Others
Well Known Here Who Are Making the Trip Abroad.

Charles J. Mullen of this city represented St. Joseph's Church Tuesday noon, when the Very Rev. Dean Joseph G. Cushman, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, sailed from Bush Terminal, Brooklyn, on the S. S. "Presidente Wilson," on a three months' trip to Rome and other points in Europe.

Dean Cushman headed a section of clergy from the New York Diocese who are making a special Holy Year pilgrimage to the Vatican, under the direction of His Eminence Patrick Cardinal Hayes. Among other of the clergy who are making the pilgrimage are the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Mallick J. Fitzpatrick, formerly of this city; the Rev. John J. Madden, New York; the Rev. James F. Malloy, New York; the Rev. John J. Mahon, Inwood, L. I.; the Rev. Thomas F. Monaghan, Jersey City; the Rev. Edward A. Hayes and the Rev. Patrick J. Lennon of New York.

Besides the clergy there were thirty men and women who are making the pilgrimage, among them the Misses Emily and Helen Rice, of Kingston. Their father, former Senator Jacob Rice, their sister, Stella, and brothers, Frank, Maurice, Edward, and William, were on the pier to bid the Rice sisters adieu.

Others on the pier were the Rev. Henry A. Fitzgerald of this city, the Rev. Thomas Larkin of East Kingston, and Mgr. Joseph F. Rummell, formerly of St. Peter's, this city. Delegations representing the parishes whose pastors are making the trip, and friends of the other voyagers were also at the pier to give a happy send-off and God-speed.

The clergy were escorted from the parish house of the Immaculate Conception Church, of which the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Mallick J. Fitzpatrick is rector, by the boys and girls of the institution, a phalanx of motor-cycle police and the Boys' Band of the Immaculate Conception Church.

WEATHER BULLETINS SENT TO AVIATORS

Forecasts and bulletins have been prepared and issued daily for several years by the weather bureau for the benefit of aviators, especially those in the services of the army and navy. When the transcontinental air-mail service was extended across the continent in the summer of 1924, arrangements were made at the request of the Post Office department for special weather forecasts.

These forecasts are issued from Chicago. One covers the route from Bryan, Ohio, to Omaha, Neb., and the other the route from Omaha to Rock Springs, Wyo. In formulating the forecasts the bureau has in mind conditions at the surface and at 5,000 feet aloft. The predictions are prepared each morning and are made available to both eastbound and westbound flyers at the air-mail field at Omaha. An additional forecast is given in the evening, whenever, in the judgment of the forecaster, decided changes are near.

Chinese Justice Unique

Chinese justice in modern times is as odd as in the days of Confucius. Recently, a large number of prisoners, including murderers, robbers and those convicted of swind, were freed because the prisons in which they had been detained, were found insanitary and overcrowded. Another instance was instructions to a troop of soldiers to apprehend four bandit soldiers. Failure of which on the part of the soldiers thus detailed, was to mean execution of the troop's commander.

Must Discard Clothing

Europeans and Americans who want to travel or study in the tropics must get over the bashfulness of going without clothes, according to Prof. P. F. Fyren of Bernhampton, Bengal. The tropics will never be colonized by Americans or Europeans until they decide to live with the native dress. Clothing, he maintains, interferes with the natural regulating action of the skin and makes it impossible for the northerners to stand the climate.

Hammer Drives Screws

Hammer-driven screws are the latest time-savers for work in hard metal and composition materials. A hole of the correct size is drilled in the material. Into this the top of the new type screw is inserted. As it is hammered, the screw cuts and twists into the material. The extreme hardness of the screw and the angle of its threads make it turn as it is driven.—Popular Science Monthly.

Cost of Revolution

Final accounts submitted to the Hungarian national assembly show that Count Michael Károlyi's revolution and government cost Hungary no less than $325,000,000 in the currency of 1919, or over $500,000,000.

For three days, starting tomorrow, Keeney's offers Norma Talmadge in her wonderful picture, "The Only Woman." She is supported by Eugene O'Brien, the screen's most popular idol. Jimmie Connors and his orchestra will give an entirely new musical program, also featuring for his overture, "Il Trovatore."

Five acts of vaudeville, featuring "The Woodland Songsters," with their beautiful singing and whistling offering, closes at the Opera House tonight. BENIPSEY TOO ILL

TO ENTER THE RING

By Telegraph to The Freeman
London, May 11. Jack Dempsey was up early today and enjoyed a walk through Hyde Park while his wife still rested from the unpleasant effects of the voyage which brought them to England yesterday from the United States.

Dempsey was to have boxed Phil Scott, English heavyweight, at a benefit last night which the National Sporting Club had arranged. But when Dempsey appeared he said he would like to fight, "but my wife would not let me."

Then he explained both had been ill in crossing, and that he did not feel well enough to enter the ring.

The Board of Public Works of the City of Kingston do ordain as follows:

That a sewer be constructed in accordance with the provisions of Section 115 and 120 of the City Charter, as follows:

Resolved, that all and unmet or parts of all moneys on hand and in the possession of the City of Kingston be hereby expended in the construction of the sewer and appurtenances as herein provided.

This ordinance shall be published once in the official papers of this City and shall take effect immediately after such publication.

State of New York, County of Ulster,
City of Kingston,
I, John J. Linn, Assistant Secretary of the Board of Public Works of the City of Kingston do hereby certify that I have compared the foregoing ordinance with the original on file and on record in the office of the Board of Public Works and that the same is a correct transcript thereof and of the whole of said original.

Performance

"Seems to me it was driver as much as car," exclaimed an envious rival in discussing the several record smashing feats of Rickenbacker Six with "Cannon Ball Baker" at the wheel.

"Could any other than this Man of Iron, endure a drive of 1550 miles—Canada to Mexico—over three mountain ranges—Cascades, Sierras and Tehachapi—with the steep climbs and hair-raising plunges down the mountains and around hair pin turns?

"Could any other thing of flesh and blood and muscle, make that continuous drive of 40 hours 57 minutes without relief, rest or sleep?

"I say a lot of credit goes to the driver for that record.

"Absolutely!"—replied another—"but could any other car stand the merciless driving—accelerator down to the floor boards all the time—save when, to slow down for a turn, the brake pedals are in that position?"

That's why "Cannon Ball Baker" was made Chief Test Pilot of Rickenbacker Motor Company.

No other driver could push this new Rickenbacker Six sufficiently to really test its stamina.

Baker drives for the record—and the car must stand all the grief he can give it, if it is to get that record.

Its stamina—its power, its oiling system—its brakes—must be equal to his amazing physical endurance.

That this new Rickenbacker Six, has in every test been equal to Baker's demands for speed, and has smashed every record this great pair have gone after, is proof that it is a wonderfully good automobile.

Drive this Rickenbacker Six yourself—it will be a revelation to you.

Tagging Major League Bases

The generosity of the inebriated
Maritime gent had nothing on Leo Dickerman, who passed five in the first four innings and the Giants coasted into a 3 to 1 decision over the Cardinals, giving them three out of four on the series.

Simmons hit a double, triple and home, driving in all of the Athletic runs as Sam Gray won his sixth straight game by beating the Tigers
1 to 2.

A seven run rally in the sixth,
featured by two homers of Aldridge,
slaked the Phillies to the first game,
8 to 5, but the Pirates came back like a prodigal son in the second, 13
to 8.

Falk's double in the tenth broke up a pitching vendetta between Thurston and Shocker, the White Sox easing in ahead of the Yankees,
5 to 4.

With Sisler running his streak of 27 games and Williams belting two homers, the Browns won on the bit from the Senators, 6 to 3.

A homer by Roush carried the Reds and Dodgers into extra innings, and in the tenth Edward obliged with a single, driving in the runs that gave the Reds a 3 to 2 verdict over Vance.

The Braves made it entirely unanimous by winning both games of double header from the Cubs, 2 to 0 and 3 to 1, sweeping the series.
Cooney, Marquard and Ryan pitched sensationally, holding the Cubs to one run in 18 innings.

The Red Sox were lefthanded into submission by Sherrod Smith, while the Indians trifled with Winfield and Ross for ten hits and a 9 to 4 victory.

OLD TIMERS' DAY AT THE POLO GROUNDS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, May 13.—Old timers' day will be celebrated at the New York-Cincinnati game tomorrow when almost forgotten figures of the past will renew acquaintance with the Polo Grounds. The celebration will be in honor of the National League's Golden Jubilee.

Among the old time ball players present will be Amos Rusie, Bill Dahlen, Billy Gilbert, Jack Warner,
Jimmie Mott, Jack Burdock, Jerry Denny, Dan Brothers, Roger Connor, Dasher Troy, Tom York, Joe Hornung, Sam Crane and George Gore.

Judge Landis and President John
A. Heydler will be present.

Who's Afraid?

It has been rumored from time to time that the Colonial baseball team was afraid to play the Poughkeepsie Red Sox. The press of Poughkeepsie have been harping on the Sox's wonderful team (and they may have one). The managers of the Colonials are more than optimistic that they too have a wonderful team and one that will retain their prestige they have held in former years and are not afraid to play the Red Sox or any other team a series of games and know that the Colonials are as strong this year as in former years.
Once under headway, playing six or seven games a week, the Colonials will give a good account of themselves.

Game at Athletic Field.

The Colored Swatters will play a game with the Athletics this evening beginning at 6 o'clock, on Athletic Field.

Paavo Nurmi is also said to be a man of few words, so we shall not look for any help from that quarter in a crossword dilemma.

held at Prague, in May.

two days were given over to the races.

Yale fencing team, Ralph W. Jack,

Finland's athletic enthusiasts will erect a monument to Paavo Nurmi at Helsingfors. The statue will show the peerless Olympic champion runner in a track suit.

Berlenbach Is Favored to Win

Over McTigue at Yankee Stadium on May 20—Berlenbach Has Scored Many Knockouts but McTigue Has Never Been Knocked Out.

(By Davis J. Walsh.)
By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, May 13.—From present indications, citizens to the number of 70,000 will converge upon the Yankee Stadium on May 29 for the Mc-Tigue-Berlenbach world's 11 light heavyweight champion fight and the everlasting benefit of New York's milkless babies. They, the citizens, are and will be imbued with the perverse idea that the proper caper is to weep at a wedding and dance at a wake. They expect to dance.

Odds of 7 to 5 have been offered along Broadway today that Berlen-bach will lift the title and give life to a division hitherto defunct. There were no takers because Broadway turned thumbs down on McTigue long ago and wants no financial interest in his immediate welfare.

It wants to see McTigue and his title forever banished from the minds of men, so that Berlenbach and other rising young men of the ring may carry on with a program that will make the light heavyweight class the most active and popular on the fic-tious list.

If Berlenbach becomes champion,
he will be re-matched with Jack Delaney and the winner of that frolic tossed in with Jimmy Slattery, who will come of age in August and promptly take the position, his ability deserves—one of the leading big men of the ring today.

Everything, even the success of Tex Rickard's entire summer program, hangs upon the facility, or lack of same, with which Berlenbach hangs upon McTigue's jaw. However, it might be mentioned that Mc-Tigue has not been knocked out in a career covering upward of 110 fights.

For the sake of keeping the record straight, it might be mentioned that Berlenbach, the only one-punch man in boxing, has scored 21 knockouts in 24 fights.

What, professor, happens when an irresistible force meets an immovable body? The answer will be given at the Yankee Stadium on May 29.
